How to become an Avid reader?

An avid reader loves learning and gathering information. An avid reader of fiction is someone who loves story, narrative and language. Students who read regularly often do better in texts/exams in school, but this is a long-term benefit of being able to easily comprehend, absorb and process information, no matter what they are reading.

Check out these 7 steps to becoming an avid reader.

1.Set Aside Some Time Every Day.

Schedule some time dedicated to reading everyday.

2.Keep Books In The Home.

A home full of books is a home full of readers. If space is limited make a weekly trip to the library.

5.Be Prepared to Re-Read

Repetition serves as a vital learning purpose. Sometimes re-reading a sentence or paragraph can make the story make sense.

6.Look Beyond The Pages

Books aren't the only place where reading happens. Audio books and on-line books may suit you better.

7.Ask Lots Of Questions

Reading comprehension, one of the most important academic skills, takes time to develop. It requires growing vocabulary and ability to see the bigger picture.

3.Choice

When it comes to books choose wisely. Read the first page of a book if it interests you carry on reading.

4.Learning Style

What type of reader are you? Do you skim/ scan/ speed read books?
